Aine has a black eye the size of a baseball, look at that injury, that's not from a fall, that's being clocked in the face with something. She was scared when I said i was leaving, when I said i was taking my case to court she sat up sharply and said "I don't think that's a good idea..." Her face full of fear.

This is occuring right when I'm annihilating them with evidence in the HRTO, and I have them in a perjury trap, they can't answer the question as to why i was banned, because it's my attorney client priviledged emails they published. They can't use that in court, but if they say it was something else like TOS, that's perjury. SNAP.

I have become a big problem for these people, I'm winning in court, that's why this has happened. Their admissions should roll in around the 16th, (Form 13, Form 10) It doesn't matter that much, the HRTO doesn't have the juristiction for this.

I need to escalate to Superior Court of Justice before someone close to me get's seriously injured or dies.

Please do not live in that stupid fuckin' dream anymore,
Your happy place, where I'm a harmless fool, full of wild ideas,
And nobody would ever think to hurt me or shut me up.
These corporations have more money than Canada,
They act like the mafia. They ARE the mafia.

I need 230 dollars for the filing fee to escalate to superior court of justice. Review my evidence before you say no.

And if you want to call a hospital van, save me the trouble, and send one for yourself. Live in reality please,
This case has become deadly serious.

Someone could die if you don't help.

Brendan Rose
